My tips

1. Keep raw data on one sheet and reports on another. Updating stays easy.
2. Use tables (Ctrl+T) so new rows are counted automatically.
3. A dashboard should answer the three or four questions your manager asks every month, nothing more.

Questions clients ask

Will it work in Google Sheets?
Yes, I test it in both Excel and Google Sheets when you need that.

Can you fix my existing file?
Yes. Send it and I rebuild what breaks, keeping your data.

Do you use macros?
Only when they really save time. Most sheets work better with formulas alone.
